Psalms of 119

Lord of the Sabbath

Verse 1

In the valley of forgotten bones

Where the scattered tribes were laid

You breathed upon the dust again

And called us by our ancient name

From the wilderness of exile

From the ashes of our shame

You carved Your law upon our hearts

And lit the everlasting flame

Pre-Chorus

Not abolished, not forsaken

Every word You spoke remains

From Sinai’s fire to Zion’s promise

Still Your covenant sustained

Chorus

You are Lord of the Sabbath

Lord of covenant and flame

You restore the broken branches

You call the wanderers by name

You are Lord of the Sabbath

Son of David, righteous King

All the nations stand in wonder

As the house begins to sing

Verse 2

Two divided sticks are trembling

In the hand that pierced the sky

What was scattered now is rising

Dry bones living, prophesied

From the root and from the olive

Sap of mercy flowing deep

Grafting in the lost and weary

Calling home the wandering sheep

Pre-Chorus

Stone to flesh and fear to freedom

Blind eyes opening again

What was written on the tablets

Now is burning deep within

Chorus

You are Lord of the Sabbath

Lord of covenant and flame

You restore the broken branches

You call the wanderers by name

You are Lord of the Sabbath

Son of David, righteous King

All the nations stand in wonder

As the house begins to sing

Bridge (slow build, then erupt)

Blow, breath of God, on the slain

Raise up an army again

Crown Him, the Root and the Branch

The Lion who guards the remnant

From the mountain to the sea

From the desert to the deep

Every tribe and tongue declaring

The Shepherd found His sheep

Stronger:

The Shepherd found His sheep

The Shepherd found His sheep

Final Chorus (huge, lifted)

You are Lord of the Sabbath

Time and history bow low

You are Alpha and Omega

First and Last, the Stone the builder chose

You are Lord of the Sabbath

Throne established, kingdom come

Yeshua, Light of Israel

Forever we are one

Outro (soft but intense)

Not a burden — but a banner

Not a shadow — but fulfilled

Lord of rest and Lord of glory

Every promise sealed