The Greatest Problem - 119 Audio Sermon

My friends in Messiah Yeshua, we need to speak plainly. There is a lie…a monstrous, soul-destroying lie…permeating this world. It says that life has meaning apart from God. That without God we can still forge a path of love, goodness, truth, beauty, and justice while denying the very foundation of all of those things. And yet those that reject God still walk about, eat, marry, raise children, pursue careers as though it all matters. But if we are honest—and I mean brutally honest—then we must face the darkest and most terrifying truth in a godless worldview: nothing matters. Why?!? Because we all die! The atheist lives in contradiction. He says there is no God.

He says we are the product of time, matter, and chance. He says we are chemical reactions walking around in biological sacks, headed for the grave. And yet, he hugs his children as though they are eternal. He mourns at a funeral as though life holds meaning beyond biology, and death is more than a natural end.

This is not to deny the sincerity of an atheist's grief or love—but to question the worldview that insists those things are ultimately without consequence. He loves as though love has eternal value. He fights for justice as though the universe has a moral law. But if there is no God, then there is no law. If there is no law, there is no morality. If there is no morality, there is no justice. If there is no God, there is no personhood. No eternity. No ultimate accountability…only the end result of death and nothingness, for everyone, and nothing you say or do can change the end result.

Whether one is good or evil according to any standard, the end result is the same, that is, a cease of existence for you and everyone that has and will ever exist. Every experience, every thought, every emotion, becomes as though it never happened. You see, my friend, without God, nothing matters. Not science. Not philosophy. Not ethics. Not love. Not art. Not even your next breath. Because you are heading to a grave, and if your worldview is true, that grave is your end. And after that? Nothing. Eternal silence. Oblivion.

So, let me ask you this: if you truly believe that, then why do you live as though anything matters? You can suppress the truth in unrighteousness all day long, but the image of God in you will not be silenced.

Ecclesiastes 3:11 says,

> He has put eternity into man's heart.

You may deny God with your lips, but your soul betrays you. You long for purpose. You yearn for permanence. You ache for justice. You crave love that lasts. These are not evolutionary survival traits. These are echoes of Eden. But the atheist has no ground to stand on. He borrows meaning from the theistic worldview while denying its Author. That is hypocrisy of the highest kind.

Some say that the greatest question in life is, "What is the meaning of life?" But I ask you—what is the meaning of death? Evolution has no answer. It cannot account for it. Death stands as a contradiction to the entire premise of evolutionary progress. If evolution exists to preserve and propagate life, then why does everything die? Why does it all end in decay? You want to talk about meaning? Then talk about death. What does death mean?

You see, man's greatest problem is not depression. It is not injustice. It is not politics. It is not economics or oppression. Man's greatest problem is death. Because if death is not solved, then nothing—absolutely nothing—matters.

And let me be clear: death is not natural. Death is not simply the cessation of biological function. Death is the judgment of a holy God upon sin. "For the wages of sin is death" (Romans 6:23). We all die because we have all sinned. And we all die because we are all under the righteous wrath of God. That is why nothing matters if death is not solved. Because death brings the end of everything—your love, your passions, your relationships, your dreams.

But if someone could defeat death—if someone could conquer the grave—then everything changes. And that is why we preach Yeshua…a real man who walked among us, fulfilled the Law, bore our sin, and rose again from the dead.

1 Corinthians 15:17 says:

> And if Christ has not been raised, your faith is futile and you are still in your sins.

Without the resurrection, there is no Christianity. Without the resurrection, we are fools. But with the resurrection…O friend, with the resurrection…we have hope. Death is no longer the master. It has been defeated. "The last enemy to be destroyed is death" (1 Corinthians 15:26). And in that victory, everything gains meaning. Every act of obedience, every tear shed in faith, every trial endured in love—it all matters, because it echoes into eternity!

You cannot create your own meaning, friend. That is a lie. A self-invented purpose cannot outlive you. You may paint it nicely, but it burns up the moment you die. Only God gives meaning. Only God gives life. And only Yeshua solves death. John 11:25: "I am the resurrection and the life. Whoever believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live."

You want purpose? Solve death! You want life to matter? Know Yeshua! You want eternal value? Surrender to the One who holds eternity in his hands. Do not be deceived. The greatest problem is not that you lack purpose! It is that you are dead in sin and will face judgment! And the greatest solution is not self-esteem, nor success, nor comfort…it is the cross and empty tomb of the Messiah.
He is coming again, as the prophetic timeline has shown. We believe that day is near. But whether he comes tomorrow or a thousand years from now, your end is coming soon. "It is appointed for man to die once, and after that comes judgment" (Hebrews 9:27). So, I plead with you—not as a theologian, not as a debater, but as a man…be reconciled to God. Flee from the wrath to come. Flee to the One who crushed death. Flee to Yeshua.

If death is not solved, then nothing matters. But if death is defeated, then everything matters. Everything. Live as though that is true…because it is. May Yahweh bless you and keep you. Amen.
